that the women were out there, biding their time, filing their teeth, sharpening their nails--but out there. Which is to say she hoped for a miracle. Not so unreasonable a wish since a mini-miracle had already occurred: Brood and Apollo had reconciled agreeing to wait for her to make up her mind. She knew, as they did, that she never could and that the threesome would end only when they did. The Convent women would roar at that. She could see their pointy teeth.
